2015-2016 Student/Spouse Verification
Dislocated Worker

Student Name (please print) ___________________________ CSUID ___________________________

On your FAFSA application, you or your spouse (if married) indicated you were a dislocated worker. As part of the verification process, we are in need of clarification regarding dislocated worker status. In general, a person may be considered a dislocated worker if he or she:

- Is receiving unemployment benefits due to being laid off or losing a job and is unlikely to return to a previous occupation.

- Has been laid off or received a lay-off notice from a job.

- Was self-employed but is now unemployed due to economic conditions or natural disaster.

- Is a displaced homemaker. A displaced homemaker is generally a person who previously provided unpaid services to the family (ex: stay at home parent), is no longer supported by the husband or wife, is unemployed or underemployed, and is having trouble finding or upgrading employment.

Please note: Except for the spouse of an active duty member of the Armed Forces, if a person quits work, generally he or she is not considered a dislocated worker even if for example, the person is receiving unemployment benefits.

Please check one:

☐ I am a dislocated worker(s) as defined above.

☐ My spouse (if married) is a dislocated worker as defined above.

☐ We answered incorrectly. Neither student (nor spouse, if married) is a dislocated worker as defined above.

STUDENT AND SPOUSE SIGNATURES:

I (we) certify the statement checked above is correct.
