Prof. Francie Glycener

May 18 – June 14, 2020

MTWRF 01:00 PM - 03:00 PM

We often wrestle with how to put our good intentions more fully into action in ways that will benefit our community as well as enhance our individual lives. Volunteering in America is at an all-time record high; however, there can often be challenges between making the world a better place and actually achieving it. This course empowers students to maximize their potential to serve others through the lens of assisting in alleviating material poverty by investigating theoretical constructs, viewing film documentaries, incorporating fiction reading and practical hands-on experience. The call for aid in our world is great—our passion to serve must be greater.
